What is the summary of the harp of India of HLV Derozio? The central theme of "The Harp of India" is patriotism and appreciation of the rich culture of India that used to be famous worldwide. The poem reflects the poet's deep love for his homeland, India, and its cultural harmony. The poet feels sad about the current condition of India under British colonial rule.

What does the harp symbolize in the poem The harp of India? This poem is a passionate and patriotic tribute to India, and it reflects the poet's deep love for his homeland and his concern for its social and political issues during the British colonial period. Derozio employs a unique metaphor—the harp—to symbolize India's potential for greatness.

What is the central idea of the poem The harp of India? In the poem, the poet rejoices in the nostalgia of the enriched past and the accomplishments and wishes that one day India will regain its past glory and finally be free. The harp in the poem is used to signify the loss of art, tradition, culture, and literature produced by India.

What is the critical analysis of the poem The harp of India? Revival of Indian culture and literature (poetry) – Poet sees Indian culture and poetry as an unstrung harp is hung useless at an isolated place. Even if someone wails over its condition would be useless as people in general are silent over its condition. They are reason of its current condition.

What is the poet trying to convey in the harp of India? Explanation: The poem Harp of India celebrates the glorious past of India and mourns over its loss because of British Rule and ends with the hope that she (India) will regain its glory. The poet uses Harp as a symbol for the Indian poets who were earlier famous but under the British Rule, they are suffering.

What is the imagery in the poem The Harp of India? In conclusion, the poem uses metaphor and imagery to draw a comparison between the past and the present, between traditional India and India under British colonial rule. The withered bough; the unstrung harp; the ruined monument; the cold hand of dead poets, all images of a country in ruins.

Why does Derozio use concrete images in the harp of India? why does Derozio use concrete images in “ The Harp of India?” The poet uses concrete images and a figurative language to describe india's past greatness. Just as musicians like to play on a harp, many great poets liked to sing about india's past greatness.

What is the answer to the harp of India question? Answer: The poem laments India's loss of independence to the British and wishes for a return to its former splendour. The harp is merely a stringed musical instrument that Derozio uses to symbolise India's loss of literacy and art.

What is the fatal chain in the harp of India? The words "fatal chain" are a reference to the shackles of slavery that bound the Indian people, which led to the harp being neglected.

What is the central message of the poem? The central idea is what the poet is writing about or conveying to the reader. The message of the poem is the poet's feelings of position regarding the central idea. For example, the central idea of a poem might be war. The message might be opposition to war, the devastation, loss, suffering.

What is Derozio's expression of patriotism? His wish was to see India as a free country which had got rid of the British. The poet demonstrates his selfless patriotic feelings by asserting that he expects no worldly rewards for his efforts to regain the glory of his country. He wishes to have only the loving blessing of his Motherland.

Why hang St. Thou lonely on Yon Withered Bough? The lines, "Why hang'st thou lonely on yon withered bough? / Unstrung forever, must thou there remain; / Thy music once was sweet – who hears it now?" encapsulate the genuine and profound anguish in the poet's heart.

What did the harp represent? In the 19th century, with revolution in the air and a re-awakening in interest in Irish culture, the harp became a symbol of Irish pride and resistance, so much so that the instrument was banned for a time. Few truly traditional harps survive from the medieval period in Ireland.
