What is The House of the Scorpion about summary? The House of the Scorpion is a story about the struggle to survive as a free individual and the search for a personal identity. The novel deals with issues and ethics around human cloning. Technology: Matt wrestles with his status as a clone, as well as what being El Patrón's clone means for his future.

Is The House of the Scorpion a trilogy? Beginning with The House of the Scorpion—which received a Newbery Honor, National Book Award, and Printz Honor—this acclaimed young adult duology explores what it means to be human through the trials of a teen boy at the US–Mexico border who's the clone of a powerful drug lord.

What grade level is House of the Scorpion? This book's Lexile measure is 660L and is frequently taught in the 6th to 8th grade.

How many books are in The House of the Scorpion series? There are two books in The House of the Scorpion book series. The Lord of Opium is the sequel to The House of the Scorpion.

What is the moral of The House of the Scorpion? The theme of House of the Scorpion is that a person's circumstances do not determine their identity. Matt, the protagonist, seems to have a pre-destined identity. He is the clone of El Patron, and from the age of five, he is groomed to live the life El Patron was denied due to poverty.

What is the main conflict in The House of the Scorpion? Answer and Explanation: The conflict of the novel centers on the plot element that the protagonist is being "raised" for his organs to preserve the life of the drug lord from whom he is cloned. The protagonist experiences a great deal of internal conflict about his true feelings for his creator and "father" El Patrón.

Is Matt human in House of the Scorpion? Matt is a clone of El Patrón, a powerful drug lord of the land of Opium, located between the United States and Mexico. For six years, he has lived in a tiny cottage in the poppy fields with Celia, a kind and deeply religious servant woman who is charged with his care and safety.

Why did Nancy Farmer write The House of the Scorpion? In an interview about The House of the Scorpion, Nancy Farmer stated, "Even when I was a child, there were problems with drug imports and illegals all along that border [with Mexico]—and we're talking 50 years ago. This is an old problem, and I felt impelled to write about it."

Is there a second book to The House of the Scorpion? The Lord Of Opium is a 2013 science fiction novel by Nancy Farmer and is the sequel to the 2002 novel The House of the Scorpion. The book was first published on September 3, 2013, by Atheneum Books and follows the ongoing adventures of Matteo "Matt" Alacran. Front cover of The Lord Of Opium.

Why was The House of the Scorpion banned? The house of the scorpion was banned in churches, and schools because of drugs and profane language. My novel is about a clone that lives in an opium producing country and he was created for parts. The last reason The House of the Scorpion is banned is because of death and torture.

What was the drug in The House of the Scorpion? In The House of the Scorpion, Matthew's benefactor, El Patrón, raises, manufactures, and distributes opium. At least one character in the household is addicted to laudanum, a medicinal form of the drug.

Is The House of the Scorpion a good book? All in all, I enjoyed the story in The House of the Scorpion. It was intense and gritty, yet did so in a way that was completely appropriate for younger (I would say 11+) readers. Basically, if a reader is old enough to understand the content, there isn't anything they shouldn't read.

Is The House of the Scorpion Based on a true story? The House of the Scorpion is a dystopian fiction novel written by Nancy Farmer, is about a clone, named Matt, of the powerful drug lord, El Patrón.

Is The House of the Scorpion a dystopian novel? The House of the Scorpion (2002) is a National Book Award winner by American YA (young adult) novelist Nancy Farmer. It is a coming-of-age story about Matt, a young clone struggling for acceptance and survival in a dystopian world.

What does the scorpion symbolize in The House of the Scorpion? Scorpions are the emblem of the Alacrán family and represent El Patrón's cruelty toward others, as well as the connection that exists between him and his clone, Matt. "Alacrán" means scorpion in Spanish, symbolizing the family's poisonous, back-stabbing nature.

What is Matt's goal in The House of the Scorpion? Matt asserts his free will over El Patrón's preplanned destiny for him when he escapes from his home country of Opium. However, Matt returns to Opium at the end of the novel when he realizes he can use his genetic sameness to El Patrón to take over the country and choose to end the injustices of the old man's empire.

What is the religion in The House of the Scorpion? On page twenty-eight it says, "Then she would light the holy candle in front of the Virgin of Guadalupe." Celia believes in Catholicism. She is very serious about her religion and goes to church often. This statue is super important to her. She lit the candle frequently.

What does the virgin symbolize in The House of the Scorpion? Matt grows up with a statue of the Virgin of Guadalupe beside his bed, given to him by Celia. The statue represents Matt's inherent kindness and morality despite the evil corruption that surrounds him... Schmidtke, Emma. "The House of the Scorpion Symbols." LitCharts.

Who betrayed Matt in House of the Scorpion? Matt and María, who have by this time realized they love each other, attempt to flee in the ensuing chaos but are betrayed by Steven and Emilia. María is taken away, and Matt is walked over to the Big House's hospital, where El Patrón at last confirms that Matt lived only to keep himself, El Patrón, alive in the end.

What does Celia do in The House of the Scorpion? Celia is Matt's primary caretaker and a cook in El Patrón's house. She comes from the same village in Aztán as El Patrón, and therefore was not turned into an eejit when she was caught illegally crossing the border. Celia is deeply religious and loves Matt intensely and selflessly.

What does Maria look like in House of the Scorpion? She has black hair and olive skin and grows up to be a beautiful young woman. She is kind and affectionate, but also emotionally sensitive and easily upset. She feels great empathy for the suffering of eejits and clones in the country of Opium, just as she cares deeply for animals.

Who killed Furball in The House of the Scorpion? Felicia admits that she herself killed Furball and blamed Matt, because she was angry with how Matt treated Tom at the birthday party. She poisoned Furball with her own bottle of laudanum.

Why did Matt hide in the closet House of Scorpion? Why did Matt hide in the closet from Felicia? He hid in the closet because he had thought that they would put him back in the small room with Rosa looking after him. What did Matt find while hiding in the closet? He found a switch that opened a secret passageway.

Is Tom a clone in House of the Scorpion? Tom is the illegitimate son of Mr. MacGregor and Felicia. He has red hair and blue eyes like his father.

What is the problem in The House of the Scorpion? The main conflict is that Matt is a clone and mostly everyone in Opium is being mean to him, like Tom and Rosa. The solution is that Matt goes to San Luis to start a new life there. At the end is Matt goes back to Opium to become the new ruler, but finds out that mostly everyone in Opium has died.

How does House of scorpion end? He reunites with María at the convent, and then flies back to Opium to take the country back. Celia, Daft Donald, and Mr Ortega are all there. Tam Lin and the rest all died with El Patrón. Matt is now in control of Opium.

Who are the clones in The House of the Scorpion? Matt Alacrán is a clone living in Opium, a small country between Aztlán, formerly known as Mexico, and the United States. The intelligence of most clones is destroyed, but because of the wishes of his powerful original, Matteo Alacrán (El Patrón), Matt's intelligence is left intact.

How old is El Patron in The House of the Scorpion? El Patrón is the patriarch of the Alacrán family and the leader of the country of Opium. At the beginning of the novel, he is over 140 years old, and has created a clone, Matt, with the intention of extending his own life by harvesting Matt's organs for himself.

What reading level is The House of the Scorpion? This is a very appropriate book for students who are 12 years old and up. I am a mom of four teens and a 7th grade teacher.

What time period is The House of the Scorpion set in? It takes place in the 22nd century, where a thin strip of land between the now-impooverished United States and Aztlán (formerly Mexico) forms the country of Opium.
