How do I regulate my chest freezer?

Is 1 or 7 the coldest setting on a freezer? The temperature selection on a Chest Freezer is made by setting the dial from ONE to SEVEN, with SEVEN being the coldest. The normal safe freezing level is obtained by setting the control on FOUR.

How often should I defrost my chest freezer? You should aim to defrost your freezer at least once a year or more frequently if your freezer is prone to ice build-up. You should also defrost your freezer if the ice build-up is more than ¼ inch thick.

What is the most common problem on a freezer? Frost Build-up Frost accumulating inside the freezer compartment can block the vents that carry cold air into the compartment. Most freezers today have auto defrost, so check to see if the door has been left open, or if the door seal is worn. You'll need to have the seal replaced if it's damaged or torn.

How can I test my freezer is working properly? The easiest way to diagnose a problem with your freezer's compressor is by listening for its routine humming sound. Pay attention to your freezer for at least 30 minutes. If the humming sound doesn't kick in within that time, the compressor may not be working correctly.
