The Revised Penal Code of the Philippines (Act No. 3815)

Enacted in 1932, the Revised Penal Code (RPC) is the comprehensive criminal law code of the Philippines. It was authored by renowned jurist Luis B. Reyes and has undergone several amendments and revisions over the years.

1. What are the main provisions of the RPC?

The RPC defines and classifies various crimes and prescribes the corresponding penalties. It covers a wide range of offenses, including homicide, theft, robbery, assault, and defamation. The code also establishes the principles of criminal liability, defenses, and exculpatory circumstances.

2. Who is considered criminally liable under the RPC?

According to the RPC, individuals aged 15 and above are presumed to be criminally responsible for their actions. However, minors between the ages of 9 and 15 may be held responsible if they acted with discernment. Additionally, individuals suffering from mental illness or intoxication may be exempted from criminal liability under certain conditions.

3. What are the different types of criminal offenses?

The RPC categorizes crimes based on their gravity and harmfulness to society. Felonies are the most serious offenses, punishable by imprisonment of more than six months. Misdemeanors are less severe offenses, punishable by imprisonment of less than six months. Violations are minor offenses, typically subject to fines or administrative sanctions.

4. What are the defenses that may be raised in criminal cases?

The RPC provides several defenses that may be used to negate criminal liability. These include self-defense, duress, necessity, and alibi. The prosecution has the burden of proving beyond reasonable doubt that a defense is not valid.

5. What are the penalties imposed under the RPC?

The penalties prescribed by the RPC vary depending on the severity of the offense and the presence of aggravating or mitigating circumstances. Penalties include imprisonment, fines, suspension of rights, and other sanctions. The courts have the discretion to determine the appropriate penalty within the statutory limits.
