He was sentenced to 25 years in prison in 2005.

Why did Cynthia Cooper retire? Her frustrations, in combination with the emotional exhaustion that likely lingered due to the deaths of her mother and Perrot, make Cooper's decision to retire explainable. She would instead serve as head coach of the Phoenix Mercury, leading the Mercury to a unremarkable 13-19 record for the 2001 season.

How many people lost their jobs due to WorldCom scandal? You can start with the nearly 30,000 employees who lost their jobs. Then there are the investors who lost their money and now hold worthless shares of WorldCom stock. The losers list includes all those people who were owed money when the Worldcom house of cards finally collapsed.

Does WorldCom still exist today? About WorldCom WorldCom was a leading communications company that was acquired by Verizon Communications in January 2006. Known as MCI at the time of the merger, WorldCom's network assets are now part of Verizon Business.
