What is the main idea of Blood Brothers? In Blood Brothers, the themes of social class and inequality, superstition and fate, and violence are explored.

What is the story of the Blood Brothers musical? This dramatic musical, by the author of Educating Rita and Shirley Valentine, is a haunting rags-to-riches tragedy of our times. After a struggling mother surrenders one of her newborn twins to her childless employer, the brothers grow up streets apart, never learning the truth.

Who got Linda pregnant in Blood Brothers? When she is in her late teens, she falls pregnant with Mickey's baby and marries him. As an adult, Linda has very few opportunities due to her poor background and early pregnancy.

Who kills the twins in Blood Brothers? 10. Mickey waves the gun around and it accidentally goes off, killing Edward. The police shoot Mickey. The twins both lie dead.

What is the key plot of Blood Brothers? Blood Brothers, a musical by Liverpoolian playwright Willy Russell, revolves around twin boys (Mickey and Edward) who are separated at birth and brought up in completely different environments in the city. The play, set in the 1960s, is divided into two acts, with songs throughout.

Why does Mrs. Johnstone face snobbery? Johnstone had to struggle so much to raise her family in the face of snobbery from more 'traditional' people after her husband left her for "a girl they say who looks a bit like Marilyn Monroe." (Act One).

What is the true story of Blood Brothers? Blood Brothers is loosely based on the Leopold and Loeb murder case from 1924. The two half-brothers planned and executed a murder to prove that they could get away with it due to their superior intellect, and their story is beautifully re-imagined here.

Why is Blood Brothers a tragedy? Tragic Conventions Blood Brothers is a typical tragedy. The first part builds up the turning point (Mrs Johnstone giving up Edward and keeping Mickey), and the second part deal with the consequences of this, which leads to the main character's downfall.

What is the superstition in the play Blood Brothers? Near the beginning of the play, the devious Mrs. Lyons tells Mrs. Johnstone that if two long-lost twins ever learn that they are related, they will both die instantly—and at the end of the play, despite the improbability of Mrs. Lyon's made-up superstition, this is exactly what comes to pass.

Does Linda cheat on Mickey in Blood Brothers? Lyons tells Mickey. Unexpectedly, Mrs. Lyons now appears on stage and she reveals to Mickey the truth about the affair which is unfolding between Edward and Linda.

Why is the number 7 important in Blood Brothers? Seven magpies stand for a secret and the number seven recurs several times in Blood Brothers (Mrs Johnstone has seven children before she has the twins, the play moves forward in seven-year leaps, Mickey is sentenced to seven years in prison).

What happened at the end of Blood Brothers? This revelation completely unhinges Mickey, however, as he realizes that he could be the one living Edward's life. As he gesticulates wildly with the gun, he accidentally shoots and kills his twin, and is immediately shot and killed by the police in turn.

Who is the villain in Blood Brothers? Lyons: Paranoid. As the villain of the play, Mrs. Lyons displays signs of paranoia and instability.

What is the obsession in Blood Brothers? How the women's relationship affects Mrs Lyons in particular is revealed by Russell as the play progresses. She develops an obsession about her son needing to stay away from Mickey, causing her husband concern to the point that he advises her to 'see a doctor'.

What is the dramatic irony in the Blood Brothers? Dramatic Irony The audience is aware throughout the play that Mickey and Edward are twins, but they do not know this until the very last scene. Tragic Hero - A main character cursed by fate and in possession of a tragic flaw (both Mickey and Edward display some features of tragic heroes).

Why did Paul hate Benjy? Benjy is an extrovert who is very carefree and fun loving. However, Paul thinks his brother believes he is superior and as a result he grows to hate him. Paul is conflicted about his feelings because deep down he wants Benjy to be his friend and confidant. The story ends with Paul attacking Benjy.

Why did Mikey shoot Edward in Blood Brothers? Mickey taking the gun and going to find Edward reflects how he has resorted to violence to fight his own lack of control, like Mrs Lyons. However, Mickey shooting Edward is accidental. This demonstrates how violence can take over the characters' lives.

What is the main message in Blood Brothers? In Blood Brothers, the themes of social class and inequality, superstition and fate, and violence are explored.

Why did Mrs. Johnstone's husband leave her? At the start of the play, she describes how difficult her life has been. When she first met her husband, he would take her out dancing, but as she had more children, he thought she was too fat and eventually left her for another woman. Mrs Johnstone starts the play with seven children and is pregnant with her eighth.

Why does Mrs. Lyons try to stab Mrs. Johnstone? Mrs Johnstone has relocated and is happy. Edward and Mickey are now 14. They meet again and are seen by Mrs Lyons who is so paranoid that Edward will learn the truth about his birth she finds and attempts to stab Mrs Johnstone.

Why does Linda turn to Eddie? After years of poverty (and Mickey's imprisonment), however, she turns to Edward for comfort and support, and the two begin an affair. Despite this unfaithful act, Linda is a sympathetic character, one who loves both twins, and is driven to betray her husband by desperate and dismal circumstances.

What is the problem in Blood Brothers? In Blood Brothers, Russell explores social class through: Mrs Lyons' manipulation of Mrs Johnstone. The differences between the twins' childhoods. Mickey's difficult adult life in contrast to Edward's privileged existence.

What happens to the twins in Blood Brothers? The police also arrive. Mickey waves the gun around and it accidentally goes off, killing Edward. The police shoot Mickey. The twins both lie dead.

What is the addiction in Blood Brothers? Addiction. Mickey explains his dependency on the pills when he tells Linda that they make him feel “invisible” (Act Two). This suggests that Mickey is so full of self-hatred that he would rather be ignored and abandoned than have to face up to grim reality.

What is the climax of Blood Brothers? Act Two – The climax Mickey sees them together, takes his brother's gun to a council meeting intending to shoot Edward but cannot bring himself to do it. His mother reveals the truth: they are twins. In shock, Mickey pulls the trigger by mistake and kills Edward. The police shoot Mickey dead.

Why does Mrs. Lyons fire Mrs. Johnstone? After she has taken the child and Mr Lyons has returned home - believing Edward to be his son, she fires Mrs Johnstone as she is scared about her becoming close to the baby.

Who dies at the end of Blood Brothers? Mickey furiously despairs that he was not the one given away, because then he could have had the life given to Eddie. Enraged, Mickey gestures with the gun toward Eddie and accidentally pulls the trigger. The gun fires, killing Eddie, with the police then shooting and killing Mickey.
