Why Do Clocks Run Clockwise and Other Imponderables: Exploring Life's Enigmas

By David Feldman

Question: Why do clocks run clockwise?

Answer: According to Feldman's book, "Why Do Clocks Run Clockwise and Other Imponderables," there is no definitive answer to this question. However, one possible explanation is that the direction of clock hands matches the direction of the sun's apparent motion across the sky. In the Northern Hemisphere, the sun moves from east to west, and clock hands rotate in the same direction.

Question: What's the origin of the "OK" hand gesture?

Answer: Feldman traces the gesture back to the 1830s, when it was used as shorthand for "Old Kinderhook," a nickname for then-President Martin Van Buren. The gesture was popularized by printers who used it to indicate that a page was ready to be printed.

Question: Why is lightning called "lightning"?

Answer: The word "lightning" is derived from the Old English word "lihtning," which means "a flash of light." This refers to the bright and sudden burst of light produced by an electrical discharge in the atmosphere.

Question: How many hairs are on a human head?

Answer: According to Feldman, the average human head has around 100,000 hairs. However, this number can vary significantly from person to person.

Question: Why do we say "bless you" when someone sneezes?

Answer: Feldman attributes this practice to a belief that sneezing releases evil spirits from the body. In the Middle Ages, people would say "God bless you" to protect the sneezer from these spirits. The tradition has persisted even though the original superstition is no longer widely believed.

The Role of Teacher Leaders in School Improvement

Teacher leaders play a crucial role in driving school improvement and fostering student success. They bridge the gap between teachers and administrators, empowering educators to make meaningful contributions to their schools and the wider educational community. Here are some key questions and answers about the role of teacher leaders in school improvement:

What is the definition of a teacher leader?

A teacher leader is an experienced educator who possesses exceptional pedagogical skills, leadership qualities, and a commitment to continuous improvement. They mentor and guide fellow teachers, facilitate professional development, and collaborate with administrators to shape school policies and initiatives.

How do teacher leaders contribute to school improvement?

- Instructional innovation: Teacher leaders share best practices, implement research-based strategies, and advocate for innovative teaching methods to enhance student learning.
- Teacher development: They provide support and guidance to new and experienced teachers, fostering their professional growth and helping them reach their full potential.

- Collaboration and communication: Teacher leaders facilitate collaboration among teachers, administrators, parents, and the community to build strong relationships and foster a positive school culture.
- Data analysis and reflection: They use data to identify areas for improvement and engage in ongoing reflection to inform their practice and drive school-wide initiatives.
- Leadership in the school community: Teacher leaders represent the voices of teachers and advocate for their needs, while also serving as role models for students and inspiring a love of learning.

What are the benefits of having teacher leaders in schools?

- Improved student outcomes: Teacher leaders contribute to higher student achievement and engagement by creating a supportive and challenging learning environment.
- Increased teacher retention: They provide mentorship and support, which can help reduce teacher turnover and foster a sense of belonging.
- Enhanced school culture: Teacher leaders create a positive and collaborative school environment where everyone feels valued and respected.
- Reduced achievement gaps: They identify and address disparities in student performance, ensuring that all students have access to equitable opportunities and support.
- Improved school governance: Teacher leaders provide valuable perspectives and contribute to decision-making processes, fostering transparency and accountability.

How can schools foster the development of teacher leaders?

- Identify potential leaders: Schools can identify teachers who exhibit leadership qualities and have a desire to make a difference.
- Provide development opportunities: Offer professional development programs, leadership training, and mentorship opportunities to support teacher leaders in their growth.

- Empower them to lead: Grant teacher leaders the autonomy and resources necessary to implement their ideas and lead initiatives.
- Recognize and reward their contributions: Acknowledge and celebrate the impact of teacher leaders on student learning and school improvement.
- Foster a culture of collaboration: Encourage teacher leaders to share their knowledge and expertise with others, fostering a collaborative and supportive environment.
