Slow Collio Friulano: A Wine of Elegance and Complexity

Nestled in the picturesque hills of Friuli-Venezia Giulia (FVG), Italy, the Collio region is renowned for its exceptional wines. Among them, Slow Collio Friulano stands out as a testament to the region's commitment to slow, sustainable winemaking practices.

What is Slow Collio Friulano?

Slow Collio Friulano is a white wine made from 100% Tocai Friulano grapes. It adheres to the Slow Food philosophy, which emphasizes local, traditional, and sustainable food production. Slow Collio Friulano is made using indigenous yeasts, spontaneous fermentation, and minimal intervention in the winemaking process.

Why is it Called "Slow"?

The name "Slow" reflects the slow and meticulous approach used to craft this wine. Fermentation takes place over 30 days at low temperatures, preserving the grapes' natural flavors and aromas. The wine is then aged on its lees (dead yeast cells) for 10 months, adding complexity and depth.

What are the Characteristics of Slow Collio Friulano?

Slow Collio Friulano is a wine of elegance and complexity. It exhibits aromas of ripe peaches, apricots, and wildflowers, with subtle notes of minerals and spice. The palate is full and well-balanced, with a silky texture and a long, lingering finish.

What Foods Pair Well with Slow Collio Friulano?

Slow Collio Friulano is a versatile wine that pairs well with a wide range of cuisines. Its acidity and freshness make it an excellent match for seafood, grilled white fish, and vegetable dishes. It also complements rich dishes such as pork belly or roasted chicken.

Where Can I Find Slow Collio Friulano?

Slow Collio Friulano is produced by several wineries in the Collio region. It is available in specialized wine shops and restaurants, particularly in Italy and other parts of Europe.
