Who wrote the original color purple?

What is the main message of The Color Purple? Throughout The Color Purple, Walker portrays female friendships as a means for women to summon the courage to tell stories. In turn, these stories allow women to resist oppression and dominance. Relationships among women form a refuge, providing reciprocal love in a world filled with male violence.

What is the identity in Color purple by Alice Walker? Alice Walker's "The Color Purple" shows us the role of male dominance, abuse of black women, struggles of black women for their identity freedom and Independence. Celie's early life experiences pave the way for her to shape her future life. First Celie's step-father rapes, beats and abuses her.

Is The Color Purple a true story? The novel The Color Purple is itself not based on a real story. However, it is set in a very real time and era. Thus, while the characters are fictional, the world around them is not. They represent many people who lived through similar circumstances.

Why was it called The Color Purple? The title "The Color Purple" refers to a moment between the novel's protagonist, Celie, and her romantic love, Shug. Shug points to a field with purple flowers and tells Celie God gets angry when you walk past his beautiful creations and don't notice.

Did Celie and Shug sleep together? Us kiss and kiss till us can't hardly kiss no more. Then us touch each other. On the night that Shug and Celie first sleep together while their husbands are away, Celie tearfully confesses to Shug that her own father was the father of her babies. Shug tells Celie that she loves her, and her comfort soon turns physical.

What is the irony in The Color Purple? The Color Purple It is painfully ironic that Sofia leaves prison only to become the one thing that she absolutely refused to become: a white woman's maid. And the irony is compounded by the fact that she must watch over Miss Millie's children and not her own.

What is the hidden meaning of The Color Purple? The color purple is associated with a variety of meanings, including wisdom, creativity, royalty, power, ambition, and luxury. It can also represent magic, extravagance, peace, pride, independence, and wealth.

Who got Celie pregnant in The Color Purple? Celie starts writing letters to God because her father, Alphonso, beats and rapes her. Alphonso has already impregnated Celie once. Celie gave birth to a girl, whom her father stole and presumably killed in the woods. Celie has a second child, a boy, whom her father also steals.

Why was The Color Purple banned? As The Banned Books Project points out, there have been “different reasons for the book being banned, including religious objections, homosexuality, violence, African history, rape, incest, drug abuse, explicit language, and sexual scenes.” The bans and challenges to The Color Purple, as we know, have nothing to do ...

What is the trauma in The Color Purple by Alice Walker? "The Color Purple" describes the history of a woman from being humble to independent. Trauma is a major theme of the novel. The heroine Celie suffered various traumas during her whole life, namely domestic violence trauma, isolation trauma and gender trauma, etc.

What happens at the end of The Color Purple? Its main character, Celie, survives rape and abuse at the hands of her father and husband and separation from her children and sister to find love with another woman. In the end she is reunited with her long-lost family.

What disease does Shug have in The Color Purple? The townspeople believe it is either tuberculosis or a "nasty woman disease," caught from one of Shug's many lovers.

What happened to the baby in The Color Purple? Celie writes that Alphonso stole Celie's first baby while she was sleeping and killed it in the woods, and she believes he will kill her second baby as well. However, Alphonso does not kill the second baby, and Celie suspects that he instead sold the child to a married couple.

Why is The Color Purple so popular? As a once-royal color, purple symbolizes wisdom, power, spirituality, luxury, wealth and nobility. Since it is between red and blue, purple is known for the combination of red's power and blue's stability. The color purple also symbolizes independence and dignity.
