Who discovered blood group MCQ questions? The correct answer is Karl Landsteiner. Karl Landsteiner has been credited for the discovery of the ABO blood group system in 1900.

What is the hardest blood type to find a match for? What's the rarest blood type? AB negative is the rarest of the eight main blood types - just 1% of our donors have it.

What are the types of blood Mcq? There are four main groups of human blood as A, B, AB and O. Besides, there are two types of 'Rh' negative and 'Rh' positive in each of those four groups.

What is the strongest blood group in the world? Blood type O negative (O-) is the universal donor. This means that a person with any other blood type can safely receive your blood. It doesn't contain any antigen markers that other blood types recognize as not belonging. Providers use type O negative blood the most in emergencies when someone needs blood fast.

Who discovered blood first? British physician William Harvey discovers the circulation of blood. The first known blood transfusion is attempted soon afterward. Microscopist Jan Swammerdam observes and describes red blood cells.

Who first discovered blood groups? Karl Landsteiner—Discoverer of the Major Human Blood Groups.

What is the healthiest blood type? Of the eight main blood types, people with Type O have the lowest risk for heart attacks and blood clots in the legs and lungs. This may be because people with other blood types have higher levels of certain clotting factors, which are proteins that cause blood to coagulate (solidify).

Which is the easiest blood group? O negative blood can be used in transfusions for any blood type. Type O is routinely in short supply and in high demand by hospitals – both because it is the most common blood type and because type O negative blood is the universal blood type needed for emergency transfusions and for immune deficient infants.

What blood type are most millionaires? Blood type B is found in a much higher percentage (four times as often) in self-made millionaires than in the rest of the population.

Who suggested that everyone has a specific blood group? Karl Landsteiner suggested that “everyone has a specific blood group”.

Which is the rarest blood group MCQ? AB is the rarest blood group, with only 3% of the global population having it.

Which blood group is a universal donor MCQs? The correct answer is O-. Except for O, cells of groups A, B, AB contain antigens. Therefore O can give his blood to any group and is called a universal donor.

What is the rarest blood group? The golden blood type or Rh null blood group contains no Rh antigens (proteins) in the red blood cells (RBCs). This is the rarest blood group in the world, with less than 50 individuals having this blood group. It was first seen in Aboriginal Australians.
