SharePoint Document Lifecycle Management (DLM): A Q&A Guide

What is SharePoint Document Lifecycle Management?

SharePoint Document Lifecycle Management (DLM) is a feature within SharePoint that enables organizations to manage the lifecycle of their documents, from creation and collaboration to retention and disposition. DLM helps ensure documents are organized, secure, and compliant with regulations and policies.

How does SharePoint DLM work?

DLM uses SharePoint's policies and features to manage documents throughout their lifecycle. Policies can be created to define actions for specific document types, such as:

- Setting content expiration dates
- Triggering content deletion or archival
- Applying watermarks or labels for security
- Implementing information protection and encryption

Why should organizations use SharePoint DLM?

DLM offers numerous benefits for organizations, including:

- Improved document governance: DLM ensures compliance with regulations and policies by automating document retention and disposition processes.

- Increased efficiency: DLM simplifies document management by automatically performing tasks that would otherwise require manual intervention.
- Enhanced security: DLM protects sensitive documents by setting access permissions and applying security measures throughout their lifecycle.
- Reduced storage costs: DLM can automatically dispose of expired or unnecessary documents, reducing storage costs and improving storage management.

How do I implement SharePoint DLM?

Implementing DLM requires planning and configuration. It involves:

- Creating DLM policies that define actions for specific document types
- Assigning DLM policies to document libraries or sites
- Enabling audit and logging to track DLM actions
- Monitoring and managing the DLM system to ensure it is functioning as intended

What are some best practices for SharePoint DLM?

To optimize the benefits of SharePoint DLM, organizations should consider the following best practices:

- Use meaningful policies: Create clear and relevant DLM policies that align with business needs and regulations.
- Review and adjust policies regularly: Monitor the effectiveness of DLM policies and adjust them as needed to ensure they remain relevant and effective.
- Train users on DLM: Educate users on the DLM system and its benefits to encourage adherence to policies and responsible document management.
- Consider hybrid DLM: Explore hybrid DLM solutions that combine SharePoint with other platforms, such as Microsoft 365, to enhance document management capabilities.
