What is the difference between slider and arm ball? It is the finger spin equivalent of a wrist spinner's slider or zooter. What is a doosra in cricket? In a doosra, the off-spinner uses the same finger action as an off-break delivery but he cocks the wrist so that the back of his hand faces the batsman. This twist makes the ball spin in the opposite direction, confusing

What is a duck ball in cricket? A regular duck - when a batter is dismissed without any runs, but some time after the first ball. A golden duck - when a batter is dismissed after the first ball bowled to them in their innings. A diamond duck - when a batter is dismissed without facing any legal balls.

What is googly and doosra ball? The doosra is the off-spinner's equivalent of the leg-spinner's googly, which spins in the opposite direction to the leg spinner's stock ball. It is possible for a left-armer (whose action mirrors that of an off-spinner) to bowl the doosra, which in this case would turn from off to leg.
