Who contributed to the war effort by running 24 hours a day producing ships, tanks, jeeps, and ammunition? General Motors made airplane engines, guns, trucks and tanks. Packard made Rolls-Royce engines for the British air force. And at its vast Willow Run plant in Ypsilanti, Michigan, the Ford Motor Company performed something like a miracle 24-hours a day.

In which of the following did the US declare that it had no interest in taking control of Cuba? Following its declaration of war against Spain issued on April 25, 1898, the United States added the Teller Amendment asserting that it would not attempt to exercise hegemony over Cuba.

Did Lend-Lease save Russia? Perhaps most directly, without Lend-Lease trucks, rail engines, and railroad cars, every Soviet offensive would have stalled at an earlier stage, outrunning its logistical tail in a matter of days.

How many tanks did the US lose in WWII? From June 6, 1944 through May 15, 1945 for US tank and tank destroyer losses in the European Theater of Operations, United States Army (Western Front): around 7,000 (including 4,295–4,399 M4 tanks, 178 M4 (105mm howitzer), 1,507 M3 Stuart tanks and 909–919 tank destroyers, of which 540 M10 tank destroyers, 217 M18 ...

Why do the US hate Cuba? Cuba's alliance with the Soviet Union was the main reason the United States viewed Castro as a security threat—a fear that was arguably vindicated during the Cuban Missile Crisis of 1962.

Why didn't the US keep Cuba? It placed a condition on the United States military's presence in Cuba. According to the clause, the U.S. could not annex Cuba but only leave "control of the island to its people." In short, the U.S. would help Cuba gain independence and then withdraw all its troops from the country.

Who stated that the United States had no interest in taking control of Cuba? In April of 1898, Senator Henry M. Teller of Colorado proposed an amendment to the U.S. declaration of war against Spain, which stated that the United States would not establish permanent control over Cuba.

Who produced the most tanks in ww2? The Soviet Union was the major power that produced the highest number of tanks and self-propelled guns during the Second World War. While tanks had been deployed for the first time ever in combat during the First World War, their role in the Second World War was integral to success on the battlefield.

Who produced the most ships in ww2? Another significant development of WWII was the emergence of the United States as the world's foremost naval power. During the war, the U.S. built almost 9,000 war vessels (not including landing vessels), which was more than three times the amount of all other powers combined.

Who helped create the Army tank? During the First World War, Britain began the serious development of the tank. Ironically, the Royal Navy led the way with the First Lord of the Admiralty, Winston Churchill, establishing the Landships Committee in early 1915.

What did Hollywood stars do to contribute to the war effort? Off the screen, leading actors and actresses led recruitment and bond drives and entertained the troops. Leading directors like Frank Capra, John Ford, and John Huston enlisted and made documentaries to explain, "why we fight" and to offer civilians an idea of what actual combat looked like.
