In a recent exclusive interview, Ms. Steel answered some intriguing questions about her latest masterpiece:

Q: What inspired you to write "Une Grande Fille"?

A: The book was inspired by a close friend who lost her daughter in a tragic accident. I wanted to explore the pain, guilt, and resilience that a mother experiences after such a devastating loss.

Q: How did you approach the sensitive topic of grief?

A: I believe that grief is a universal human experience, and I wanted to handle it with compassion and sensitivity. I drew upon my own experiences of loss, as well as the experiences of others, to create a realistic and relatable portrayal.

Q: What can readers learn from "Une Grande Fille"?

A: I hope that readers will find comfort and inspiration in the journey of my characters. The book reminds us of the fragility of life, the importance of cherishing our loved ones, and the power of love to heal.

Q: What do you think makes "Une Grande Fille" different from your other novels?

A: This book is more personal to me than many of my others. It explores the complexities of motherhood and the profound impact that children have on our lives. It is a story of resilience and hope, and I believe it will resonate deeply with readers.

Q: What advice would you give to readers who are struggling with grief?

A: Grief is a unique and personal journey. There is no right or wrong way to feel. Allow yourself to experience all the emotions that come with loss, and seek support from loved ones or professionals if needed. Remember that time heals wounds, and that the love you shared will continue to live on.

Who found the lost ring of Shakuntala? One day, his soldiers bring a fisherman with the king's 'nam mudra' in his hand. According to him, he had found this ring in the belly of a fish. Now on seeing his signet-ring, Dushyanta at once remembers Shakuntala and the effect of the curse is over.

Why Shakuntala was rejected by the king? After a while when she came to live with the king, he did not remember anything about her and asked for proof of their being together. Shakuntala had lost the ring and could not produce any proof. So rejected by the king, she was carried away by her mother.
