What is the main goal of data mining? Data mining is a process used by companies to turn raw data into useful information. By using software to look for patterns in large batches of data, businesses can learn more about their customers and develop more effective marketing strategies as well as increase sales and decrease costs.

What are the three 3 major techniques in data collection? Data collection techniques include interviews, observations (direct and participant), questionnaires, and relevant documents (Yin, 2014).

What are the three process mining techniques? There are three main classes of process mining techniques: process discovery, conformance checking, and process enhancement. In the past, terms like workflow mining and automated business process discovery (ABPD) were used.

What are the 4 main methods of mining? There are four main mining methods: underground, open surface (pit), placer, and in-situ mining.
