5. Come si può utilizzare questo manuale?

Il manuale può essere utilizzato come riferimento grammaticale, come complemento a un corso di italiano o come strumento di autoapprendimento. È consigliabile studiare un argomento alla volta, eseguire gli esercizi e rivedere regolarmente il materiale appreso.

How to connect iTag tracker? Turn on the iTag device, and click the button " " to find connectable iTag devices. 2. Click the "Connect" button to connect iTag to APP. If it shows "disconnected" on the App, please click the "Connect" button to connect it again.

How do you turn off the iTag? To disable an AirTag, just remove its battery. You can do this by pushing down on the AirTag, twisting the cover counterclockwise, and then taking out its battery.

How do I manually Connect AirTags?

Why is my AirTag not connecting? The AirTag is a pretty simple device, so if it's not working, chances are the battery needs to be replaced. If you're having issues pairing your AirTag with your iPhone, Apple recommends taking out the battery and putting it back in. If that doesn't work, try replacing the battery.

Can you turn AirTags on and off? Note that following Apple's instructions to remove the battery from an AirTag to disable it is the only way to get an AirTag to stop tracking you short of getting rid of the AirTag. Putting the battery back in and resetting the AirTag will allow the owner of the AirTag to continue to track it.

Do AirTags have an off button? Disable AirTag Push down and twist counterclockwise on the back of the AirTag. Take the cover off and remove the battery.

How do I get my AirTag to shut up?

How long does an AirTag battery last? But, AirTags only work if they have enough battery power, which only lasts up to one year (a fact I learned recently when I was traveling in Europe). Here's an inside tip — instead of buying a new AirTag for $28 when the battery dies, you can simply replace the battery.

How do I get my AirTag to work?

Can I use AirTag to track my car? An AirTag has a different use case than a GPS tracker. Ideal for finding household and small items, but not for finding cars. A Thatcham approved GPS tracker is the much better alternative to an AirTag. Ideal for far away distances (if you are on holiday for example), and for larger items such as vehicles.

How do I pair my AirTag again?

Why is my AirTag not responding? Move to a different location to see if the issue persists. If you're still facing issues, try resetting the AirTag. Remove and reinsert the battery or press and hold the white plastic side until you hear a sound. Then, reconnect the AirTag to your Find My app.

How do I get my phone to recognize my AirTag? Hold your AirTag near your iPhone or iPad, then tap Connect. If you have more than one AirTag and get the alert "More than one AirTag detected," make sure only one AirTag is near your device at a time. Name your AirTag, then tap Continue. To register your AirTag with your Apple ID, tap Continue again.

How do I pair my AirTag again?

How do you reset your AirTag? Press down on the battery until you hear a sound. This sound means that the battery is connected. When the sound finishes, repeat the process four more times, removing and replacing the battery, then pressing down on the battery until you hear a sound.

How long does an AirTag battery last? But, AirTags only work if they have enough battery power, which only lasts up to one year (a fact I learned recently when I was traveling in Europe). Here's an inside tip — instead of buying a new AirTag for $28 when the battery dies, you can simply replace the battery.

How do I set my phone to detect AirTag? Use Tracker Detect on Android to scan for AirTags. Just hit Scan and search for nearby AirTags. After downloading Tracker Detect, turn on Bluetooth, open the application, agree to the terms and conditions, and tap the blue Scan button to search for nearby items.
