Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages: An Introduction by David Nunan

David Nunan's seminal book, "Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages: An Introduction," provides an in-depth exploration of the field of English as a foreign language (EFL) teaching. The book offers a comprehensive overview of the theories, principles, and methods involved in teaching English to non-native speakers.

Question: What are the key elements of communicative language teaching?

Answer: According to Nunan, communicative language teaching (CLT) emphasizes the development of language skills in real-world contexts. It focuses on using language for meaningful communication rather than memorizing grammar rules and vocabulary lists. CLT typically involves tasks that require students to engage in authentic interactions, such as role-plays, simulations, and group discussions.

Question: How does Nunan define "teaching language skills"?

Answer: Nunan defines teaching language skills as "the process of helping learners to develop their ability to use the four language skills: listening, speaking, reading, and writing." He emphasizes the importance of integrating all four skills in language teaching to develop a well-rounded proficiency.

Question: What are the roles of the learner and the teacher in EFL teaching?

Answer: Nunan stresses the active role of the learner in EFL teaching. He believes that learners should take ownership of their learning and be actively involved in the process. The teacher's role is to facilitate learning by providing guidance, support, and resources.

Question: What are some of the challenges faced by EFL teachers?

Answer: Nunan identifies several challenges faced by EFL teachers, including:

- Dealing with diverse learning styles and needs of students
- Teaching in contexts where English is not widely spoken
- Balancing the need for grammar instruction with communicative activities
- Assessing student progress in a meaningful way

Question: What do current trends in EFL teaching suggest?

Answer: According to Nunan, current trends in EFL teaching include:

- A focus on task-based learning and content-based instruction
- The use of technology to enhance learning opportunities
- A growing emphasis on intercultural communication and global citizenship
