Master Electronic Devices with Floyd's 8th Edition Solution Manual

For students and professionals alike, mastering electronic devices requires a comprehensive understanding of the underlying principles. Floyd's Solution Manual for Electronic Devices, 8th Edition provides invaluable support in comprehending this complex subject.

Question: Determine the voltage gain for the BJT amplifier circuit with a collector resistor of $10k\Omega$ and an emitter resistor of 470Ω . The transistor has a current gain of 200.

Answer: The voltage gain can be calculated using the formula $A_v = -R_c/R_e \beta$, where A_v is the voltage gain, R_c is the collector resistor, R_e is the emitter resistor, and β is the current gain. Plugging in the values, we get $A_v = -10k\Omega / 470\Omega \times 200 = -43$.

Question: Calculate the input resistance of a MOSFET with a transconductance of $10mS$ and a source resistor of $1k\Omega$.

Answer: The input resistance is given by $R_{gs} = 1/g_m$, where g_m is the transconductance. Therefore, $R_{gs} = 1/10mS = 100\Omega$.

Question: Determine the output voltage of an op-amp circuit with a feedback resistor of $2k\Omega$ and a gain of -50. The input voltage is $1V$.

Answer: The output voltage is calculated using the formula $V_o = -A_v V_i$, where V_o is the output voltage, A_v is the gain, and V_i is the input voltage. Substituting the values, we get $V_o = -50 \times 1V = -50V$.

Question: Calculate the cutoff frequency for a low-pass filter with a cutoff resistance of $10k\Omega$ and a cutoff capacitance of $1\mu F$.

Answer: The cutoff frequency is given by $f_c = 1 / (2\pi RC)$, where f_c is the cutoff frequency, R is the cutoff resistance, and C is the cutoff capacitance. Plugging in the values, we get $f_c \approx 15.9\text{Hz}$.

Question: Determine the power gain for a Class A BJT amplifier with an output power of 10W and an input power of 1mW.

Answer: The power gain is calculated using the formula $P_g = P_o / P_i$, where P_g is the power gain, P_o is the output power, and P_i is the input power. Substituting the values, we get $P_g = 10\text{W} / 1\text{mW} = 10,000$. This implies that the amplifier has a power gain of 40dB.
