The Value of a 2003 Dodge Neon SXT

The value of a 2003 Dodge Neon SXT depends on several factors, including its condition, mileage, and trim level. According to Kelley Blue Book, the average retail value for a 2003 Dodge Neon SXT in good condition with around 100,000 miles is approximately $2,000 to $4,000.

Differences Between Dodge Neon SE and SXT

The 2003 Dodge Neon SE and SXT have several key differences:

- Exterior: The SXT features a more aggressive front bumper, side skirts, and a rear spoiler.
- Interior: The SXT has upgraded seats, leather-wrapped steering wheel, and an upgraded audio system.
- Performance: The SXT has a 2.0-liter engine with 132 horsepower, while the SE has a 1.6-liter engine with 110 horsepower.

Reliability of Dodge Neons

Dodge Neons have received mixed reviews in terms of reliability. Some models have experienced issues with transmission problems, engine failure, and electrical problems. However, regular maintenance and repairs can help extend the lifespan of a Dodge Neon.

Lifespan of a 2003 Dodge Neon

With proper maintenance, a 2003 Dodge Neon can last up to 150,000 miles or more. Factors that affect longevity include driving habits, climate, and the frequency of repairs.
