What did anarchists believe in regards to the government? Anarchists consider the state as a tool of domination and believe it to be illegitimate regardless of its political tendencies. Instead of people being able to control the aspects of their life, major decisions are taken by a small elite.

Do anarchists believe in God? It is a fact that most anarchists are atheists. They reject the idea of god and oppose all forms of religion, particularly organised religion.

Does anarchism still exist today? Anarchism continues to generate many philosophies and movements, at times eclectic, drawing upon various sources and syncretic, combining disparate concepts to create new philosophical approaches.

What are the beliefs of the anarchists? The key beliefs of Anarchism are anti-statism, anti-clericalism, liberty, and economic freedom. Modern anarchist thought is believed to have been developed in 1793 by William Godwin. Some important anarchist thinkers are Max Stirner, Pierre-Joseph Proudhon, Mikhail Bakunin, Peter Kropotkin, and Emma Goldman.

What are the main principles of anarchism?

Do anarchists believe in laws? Some anarchist legal theorists hold that an ideal anarchist society should be based strictly on natural law and mutual aid, which require no social contract. However, many anarchist theorists completely reject the concept of natural law as coercive and man-made.

What is the main idea of anarchy? In international relations theory, the concept of anarchy is the idea that the world lacks any supreme authority or sovereignty. In an anarchic state, there is no hierarchically superior, coercive power that can resolve disputes, enforce law, or order the system of international politics.
