Why was Ralph chosen as leader? Ralph is elected chief in Lord of the Flies because he is the one who blows the conch to gather the scattered boys. What is the main theme of Lord of the Flies? The central concern of Lord of the Flies is the conflict between two competing impulses that exist within all human beings: the instinct to live by rules, act peacefully, follow moral commands, and value the good of the group against the instinct to gratify one's immediate desires, act violently to obtain supremacy ...

What is Ralph upset by? Ralph is irritated because the huts keep falling down before they are completed and because, though the huts are vital to the boys' ability to live on the island, none of the other boys besides Simon will help him. As Ralph and Simon work, most of the other boys splash about and play in the lagoon.

Why does Jack paint his face? In Lord of the Flies, Jack paints his face like a mask to act as camouflage so the pigs cannot see him when he is hunting. The mask, however, gives him a new identity and allows him to separate from the rules of society.

How does Jack treat Piggy? Once Jack and the hunters return with a dead pig, Ralph blames Jack for the fire going out. Jack becomes defensive and takes out his anger by punching, slapping, and mocking Piggy. This violence does not bother anyone in the group, though Simon shows some sympathy towards Piggy.

Why are Piggy's glasses important? Piggy is the most intelligent, rational boy in the group, and his glasses represent the power of science and intellectual endeavor in society. This symbolic significance is clear from the start of the novel, when the boys use the lenses from Piggy's glasses to focus the sunlight and start a fire.

What does the pig head symbolize in Lord of the Flies? The pig's head is a ghastly symbol of evil, the Lord of the Flies being a direct reference to Beelzebub, the Prince of Devils, lord of flies, and dung. The head is the embodiment of the actual beast on the island, the darkness that lives within all people, original sin, and/or human nature itself (Bufkin 48).
