How do you trade successfully on eToro? Tip: If you are biased towards going “long” or “short”, consider finding a market that is trending in that direction. It is also vital to consider market conditions. If price is moving sideways, then range trading strategies would be more effective than trend-following ones.

What is x30 leverage on eToro? The way leverage works is that you essentially borrow money from your broker to trade with more money than you have deposited in your account. eToro currently offers retail investors leverage of up to x30 for major currency pairs. This means that you can potentially trade $30 for every $1 that is in your account.

Is eToro a good platform for day trading? If you're more interested in the automated aspects of copy trading and smart portfolios than low spreads and day trading, you should definitely give eToro a try. eToro is a multi-asset platform which offers both investing in stocks and cryptoassets, as well as trading CFDs.

Can you make a living on eToro? The Popular Investor Program enables talented and experienced investors to potentially generate a significant level of income by being copied by other investors on the eToro platform. If you meet the requirements to become a Popular Investor, apply to the program and get paid when people copy your trades.

Do professional traders use eToro? eToro offers various investments, including stocks, commodities, and forex. They work with multiple brokers and provide different platforms, including proprietary trading platforms and mobile applications, to access global markets. The company caters to professional AND retail investor accounts.

Is scalping allowed on eToro? Under eToro's Terms and Conditions, scalping is a trading technique that is not allowed.

Do you actually own the shares on eToro? eToro acts as an intermediary, allowing you to trade real stocks through our platform. When you open a non-leveraged buy (long) position on a stock, you are investing in the underlying asset*, and the stock is purchased and held by eToro on your behalf. This also applies to fractional shares.

How many trades can you make in a day on eToro? Your eToro Options account is a cash account by default. In a cash account, you don't have a limit on the number of day trades you can place, but you must be aware of settlement times to avoid Good Faith Violations.
