Questions:

1. What was the main goal of the American Revolution?
2. Who was the leader of the Continental Army?
3. What was the primary reason for the Battle of Saratoga?
4. What was the significance of the Treaty of Paris in 1783?
5. How did the Articles of Confederation affect the newly formed United States?

Answers:

Paragraph 1:

1. The main goal of the American Revolution was to gain independence from British rule and establish a new government based on the principles of democracy and individual liberty.

Paragraph 2:

2. George Washington was the leader of the Continental Army during the American Revolution. He played a crucial role in unifying the colonies and leading them to victory.

Paragraph 3:

3. The primary reason for the Battle of Saratoga was to prevent the British from gaining control of New York and splitting the colonies in two. It was a significant turning point in the war, as it convinced France to enter the war on the American side.

Paragraph 4:

4. The Treaty of Paris in 1783 officially recognized the independence of the United States and established its boundaries. It marked the end of the American Revolution and the beginning of a new era for the nation.

Paragraph 5:

5. The Articles of Confederation, which served as the first constitution for the United States, created a weak central government with limited powers. This made it difficult for the new nation to address national issues and maintain unity.
