What is the main message of The Lion and the Jewel? The main themes in The Lion and the Jewel are vanity, gender roles, and tradition versus progress.

Why did Sidi refuse to marry Lakunle? Eventually, it is revealed that Sidi does not want to marry him because Lakunle refuses to pay her bride-price as it is uncivilized, outrageous custom. Sidi tells him that if she did so, it could imply that she was not a virgin.

How did Baroka seduce Sidi? How did Baroka seduce Sidi in The Lion and the Jewel? Baroka spreads a lie that he is impotent and invites Sidi to come to supper even though she rejects his marriage offer. Once she is there, he tempts her vanity in such a way that she is awed and silenced. While Sidi is in this state, Baroka manages to seduce her.

What happened between Sidi and Lakunle in the morning? The first act, "Morning," introduces Sidi as the beautiful village belle. Lakunle rushes to her side one morning and explains to a bewildered and annoyed Sidi why she should act more like the "new women" in Lagos, meaning that she should shrug off her traditional roles and become modernized.

What is the short summary of the lion and Jewel? The Lion and the Jewel is a play by Wole Soyinka that dramatizes the courtship of a beautiful woman named Sidi by two very different suitors. Sidi has two suitors: Lakunle, a hapless schoolteacher who professes to want a modern marriage, and Baroka, the elderly, polygamist village leader.

Why does the bale decide to trick Sidi? Amrutha Subbukrishna The Bale had to trick Sidi into marrying him. For him, she is just another object he wishes to possess.

However, since Sidi said no to him partly because of her own vanity and partly because of his age, he decided to trick her into the marriage rather than forcing her.

Did Lakunle kiss Sidi? He kisses her. This is a sharp turn for Lakunle. He goes from calling Sidi simple to telling her that as a married couple, she'll be his equal. This shows that Lakunle uses modernity and progress where it suits him, though not necessarily across the board.

What is the main impediment to Lakunle in marrying Sidi? Answer: Sidi repeatedly refuses Lakunle because he won't pay the bride price. This is a significant reason why she refuses to marry him. The bride price was a tradition of the villagers, and Sidi wants to honor that custom.

Why is Sidi called the jewel? Sidi is one of the main characters of the play The Lion and the Jewel, written by Nigerian playwright Wole Soyinka. She is the 'jewel' of the village, famous for her exceptional beauty. There are two men of the village who seek her hand in marriage - Lakunle and Baroka.

Why does Lakunle hate Baroka? Lakunle, in particular, finds Baroka's lifestyle abhorrent. He describes how Baroka paid off a surveyor to not route train tracks through the outskirts of Ilujinle, thereby robbing the village of a link to the modern world that would modernize the village.

Why is Baroka called the lion? Baroka is the Bale (village chief) of Ilujinle. He's known as both the "Lion" because of his strength, and the "Fox" because of his cunning tricks. At 62 he's an older man, but he still performs impressive feats of strength despite his age. He has many wives and concubines, and he marries a new wife every few months.

Why did Lakunle lose Sidi to Baroka? It is the bride price that brings a conflict between Lakunle and Sidi. He loses Sidi to Baroka because he does not pay the price Lakunle promises to change the life of Sidi. He tells her they will do things together and share every moments of their life together.

What is the relationship between Lakunle and Sidi? Both Lakunle and Baroka wish to marry Sidi, but she doesn't act particularly interested in marrying either of them—she deems Baroka too old, and Lakunle insults her by calling her dumb and referring to her as a "bush-girl." However, she indicates that she supports her village's traditional way of life by implying that ...

What is the significance of Lakunle? Lakunle functions as a voice of Western attitudes toward romance in the play. As a result, he is not able to successfully convince Sidi of his intentions as he does not want to pay the traditional bride price and later in the play, balks at the prospect of marrying Sidi too hastily.

How old was Lakunle in The Lion and the Jewel? In this comedy by Wole Soyinka, Lakunle is a 23-year-old school teacher who is one of Sidi's suitors.

Why did Sidi marry Baroka? Consequently, Sidi opts to become Baroka's wife not because she loves him but to preserve her reputation in the village. She'd told Lakunle she wouldn't accept to be married without her bride-price having been paid because word would spread in the village she's not a maid (virgin).

What is the moral lesson of The Lion and the Jewel? One lesson is that vanity and pride are destructive, as seen through Sidi's false sense of power from her pictures. Additionally, the play emphasizes the importance of maintaining traditional customs amidst colonial development, demonstrated by Baroka's triumph over modernity.

Why does Lakunle object to Sidi carrying things on her head? (d) He says it makes her look like a beast of burden.

What does Sidi choose Baroka in the end of The Lion and the Jewel? In Lion and the Jewel, Lakunle refuses to provide bride-price to Sidi. But Sidi expects it strongly from him. According to the culture of Nigeria, Baroka accepts to offer the bride-price, because he respects his country tradition. Hence Sidi leans aside Baroka and marries him at the end of the play.

How does Baroka seduce Sidi in The Lion and the Jewel? Sidi is depicted as being ignorant and simple because she does not think her actions through. Baroka is able to seduce Sidi by telling Sidi that he will put her image on every stamp leaving Ilujinle. Sidi is fascinated with the idea of becoming even more famous and willingly sleeps with Baroka.

What is the significance of Sidi's visit to Baroka's Palace? Sidi's visit to the palace happens during the third part of the play when the story is close to the end. After this encounter, Sidi decides to continue the wedding plans with Baroka even if he assaulted her the last night.

What is the main impediment to Lakunle marrying Sidi? In "The Lion And The Jewel" there is a conflict between Lakunle and Sidi. The main conflict is over the paying of bride price. Sidi wants a bride price paid on her. She maintains her virginity because she wants people to believe that she is morally sincere.

What is the significance of Sidi in The Lion and the Jewel? Sidi is the "jewel" referred to in the play's title. She is young and beautiful, and is known as "the village belle." Sidi represents an aspect of tradition in the play. She first appears carrying a pail of water on her head, a traditional women's task. She also dresses traditionally.

Why does Lakunle dislike Baroka? Lakunle's outrage at Baroka's marriage proposal to Sidi highlights his disgust with traditional marriage culture in Nigeria. He finds polygamy unsavory and "barbaric" in contrast to his idealized monogamy. Deep down, however, Lakunle is simply jealous of Baroka.

What is the lesson of the play The Lion and the Jewel? One lesson is that vanity and pride are destructive, as seen through Sidi's false sense of power from her pictures. Additionally, the play emphasizes the importance of maintaining traditional customs amidst colonial development, demonstrated by Baroka's triumph over modernity.

What is the theme of conflict in The Lion and the Jewel? The main theme is the conflict between traditional Nigerian Yoruba values and the Western influence of Nigeria's colonizers. In this play, Soyinka seeks to satisfy his thirst for Afro-centricity by applying many methods, which are in African origin, in his play.

What is the significance of the stranger in The Lion and the Jewel? The stranger in 'The Lion and the Jewel' is a photographer and his presence in the village of Ilunjinle will bring special attention to Sidi (the Jewel) and set into motion a lover's triangle in which Baroka (the lion) and Lakunle, the teacher, must convince Sidi that they are the right choice of husband for Sidi.

What is the significance of mime in The Lion and the Jewel? The mime scene is only superficially expository, since Baroka's successful rejection of the railroad could easily be provided by Lakunle's words alone. The importance of the mime scene lies in its dramatic representation of Baroka's cunning.

Why is Sidi called the jewel? Sidi is one of the main characters of the play The Lion and the Jewel, written by Nigerian playwright Wole Soyinka. She is the 'jewel' of the village, famous for her exceptional beauty. There are two men of the village who seek her hand in marriage - Lakunle and Baroka.

Why did Sidi marry Baroka? Consequently, Sidi opts to become Baroka's wife not because she loves him but to preserve her reputation in the village. Why does Lakunle hate Baroka? Lakunle, in particular, finds Baroka's lifestyle abhorrent. He describes how Baroka paid off a surveyor to not route train tracks through the outskirts of Ilujinle, thereby robbing the village of a link to the modern world that would modernize the village.

What is one major theme in The Lion and the Jewel? Modernization. One of the biggest themes in the play is that of tradition versus modernization. How is gender presented in The Lion and the Jewel? They conclude that Wole Soyinka consciously and unconsciously represented male characters as strong, powerful and metaphysically as a lion, a symbol of irresistible power, initiator, doer of something, and commander in chief, the king, while their female counterparts, as represented by Sidi and Sadiku, are represented ...

What does Baroka represent in The Lion and the Jewel? In Soyinka's The Lion and the Jewel, Baroka symbolizes the beauty and stability of African culture and values by demonstrating skills invaluable to the village of Ilujinle - such as hunting, climbing trees, winning log-tossing competitions, and performing various traditional rituals.

What is the theme of polygamy in the play The Lion and the Jewel? One main issue that can be shown in the play "The Lion and the Jewel" is that this society is a polygamous one.
