Senior Citizen Homeowner Exemption Scheme Renewal

What is the Senior Citizen Homeowner Exemption Scheme (SCHE)?

The Senior Citizen Homeowner Exemption Scheme (SCHE) is a government initiative that provides property tax relief to eligible senior citizens aged 60 and above. It offers a reduction in property taxes on the occupant's primary residence, helping to ease the financial burden on older homeowners.

Who is Eligible for SCHE?

To be eligible for the SCHE, you must meet the following criteria:

- Be aged 60 or older
- Be the owner and occupant of the property as your primary residence
- Have an annual household income below a specified threshold (varies by county)

How to Apply for SCHE Renewal

To renew your SCHE exemption, you typically need to submit a renewal application each year. The application process may vary depending on your county. However, it generally involves providing updated financial information and proof of age.

What Happens if I Miss the SCHE Renewal Deadline?

If you miss the deadline to renew your SCHE exemption, you may lose the property tax reduction for that year. You should contact your county tax assessor's office as soon as possible to inquire about reinstatement options.

Other Important Considerations

- Property Value Changes: If the value of your property increases, your SCHE exemption may be adjusted to reflect the higher value.
- Income Limits: The annual household income limit for SCHE eligibility may increase over time. Check with your county tax assessor's office to confirm the current income threshold.
- Changing Ownership: If you sell or transfer ownership of the property, your SCHE exemption will end. The new owner will need to apply for their own exemption if they meet the eligibility criteria.
