Download Complete File

What is the main message of The Hound of the Baskervilles? Answer and Explanation: While there are many lessons through the story, there is one significant moral: 'Lies and deception never pay in the long run'. The story is filled with characters who lie for one reason or another, including the primary culprit: Jack Stapleton.

What is the main problem in The Hound of the Baskervilles? Summary: The primary conflict in The Hound of the Baskervilles is the investigation into the mysterious death of Sir Charles Baskerville, believed to be caused by a supernatural hound.

How is the mystery in Hound of the Baskervilles solved? Answer and Explanation: Sherlock Holmes solves The Hound of the Baskervilles by using Sir Henry as bait and thereby, catching the culprits in the act. He also knew Mr. Stapleton was lying about his identity and using his wife and Laura Lyons to carry out his schemes. Then, Holmes recognizes Mr.

What does the hound symbolize in The Hound of the Baskervilles? The titular hound of the Baskervilles primarily symbolizes the tension between science and superstition within the novel. Even characters with scientific backgrounds like Dr. Mortimer and Dr. Watson find the terrifying howling and large footprints a challenge to their otherwise fairly rational minds.

What happened to Stapleton in Hound of the Baskervilles? In The Hound of the Baskervilles, Jack Stapleton drowns in the Grimpen Mire after straying into one of its many bogs.

Why was Mr Barrymore a suspect in Hound of the Baskervilles? Answer and Explanation: In The Hound of the Baskervilles, Dr Watson suspects that the man with the beard in the cab following Sir Henry - Sir Charles's heir and nephew - is Barrymore, since the latter also wears a beard.

Who killed Mr. Baskerville? Explanation: Sir Charles dies of a heart attack, but he is really murdered by his neighbor Mr. Stapleton. Charles Baskerville died in a "sudden and tragic death," and it was his death that led to Sherlock Holmes being hired.

Who is the main villain in The Hound of the Baskervilles? Stapleton is the villain in The Hound of the Baskervilles. He is a Baskerville himself, and he trains a dog to kill Charles and Henry Baskerville so that he can inherit the Baskerville fortune.

Why is Sir Henry important to Mortimer? While Sir Henry is arriving to take over his inheritance, Dr. Mortimer is as fearful about his coming as he is aware of its importance. The reason that he is fearful is that he worries that the same terrible fate that befell his predecessor, Sir Charles, might also befall Sir Henry.

Who was guilty in The Hound of the Baskervilles? More unsettling events occur, including the appearance of an unknown figure on the moor. Watson later discovers that the mysterious person is Holmes, who has been conducting his own investigation. Holmes deduces that the killer is Jack Stapleton, a neighbour who is actually Rodger Baskerville.

Why is Stapleton a suspect? Stapleton becomes a suspect when Holmes finds out he has been lying about his relationship with his sister, who actually his wife, to the people of Dartmoor. Dr. Watson also learns of his connection to Laura Lyons, whose note lured Sir Charles out in the middle of the night, and finally, it is discovered that Mr.

What is the curse of the Baskerville family? Explanation: The curse of the Baskervilles is that the hound of the moor hunts down the members of the Baskerville family one by one. When the current resident of the Baskerville home is found dead, a young Baskerville who had been living in America returns to take over his property.

What is the central idea of The Hound of the Baskervilles? A primary theme of The Hounds of the Baskervilles is the conflict between rationalism and superstition. Much of the speculation surrounding the hound focuses on supernatural explanations, which Sherlock Holmes steadfastly refuses to believe.

What is the climax of The Hound of the Baskervilles? The climax of The Hound of the Baskervilles occurs when Sir Henry is walking back home from Mr. Stapleton's house as Holmes, Dr. Watson, and Lestrade lie in wait. The three are worried about the encroaching fog and visibility problems when the hound appears chasing after Sir Henry.

What is the ending of The Hound of the Baskervilles? Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson solve the case by using Sir Henry as bait and catch the culprits in the act. The hound is shot dead as it attacks Sir Henry partly covered in phosphorous.

Is the Grimpen Mire real? In his book Conan Doyle called this place Grimpen Mire but he was in fact writing about a real place called Foxtor Mires on Dartmoor which he had visited – he just changed its name.

What is the main mystery in The hound of Baskervilles? As the reader followed the plot of the novel, the main conflict is person vs. person, or Dr. Holmes tries to solve who the killers dog owner is. The Baskervilles (a rich family who owns the Baskerville mansion) are dying off by a killer dog.

Who does Miss Stapleton mistake Watson for? Miss Stapleton quickly takes back her words once she realizes she's mistaken Watson for Sir Henry Baskerville, whom she wants to protect from her husband.

Why does Watson conclude that it was Barrymore's wife that was crying in the night? He later learns that the man's suggestion that it could not have been his wife crying is a lie—Watson sees the woman's red and swollen eyes. Watson wonders at the butler's lie and at the woman's tears, speculating that perhaps Barrymore was the bearded stranger back in London.

Why did Holmes apologize to Sir Henry? Holmes apologizes for putting Sir Henry in so much danger—he didn't expect either the fog or the dog.

What did Watson feel Barrymore was hiding? Watson suggests his suspicion of a love affair between Barrymore and a country lass, which would explain his wife's crying. Informing Sir Henry, who claims to have heard Barrymore's late night activity, Watson plots a late-night stakeout to catch Barrymore in the act.

Is The hound of Baskerville a real story? Answer and Explanation: Yes, this Sherlock Holmes adventure was inspired by a true legend of a black hound in Dartmoor told to Sir Arthur Conan Doyle by a man named Bertram Fletcher Robinson.

Who is the villain in The hound of Baskervilles? Roger Baskerville Jr., better known as Jack Stapleton, is the main antagonist of the 1902 Sherlock Holmes novel The Hound Of The Baskervilles.

How many people died in The Hound of the Baskervilles? Sir Charles, Selden, Mr. Stapleton, and his hound all die in the novel. The novel begins with Sir Charles's untimely death followed by Selden, the escaped convict who was, unfortunately, wearing Sir Henry's old clothes.

Why does Stapleton pretend his wife is his sister? Miss Stapleton, née Beryl Garcia, is Mr. Stapleton's wife, posing as his sister as part of his plan to isolate the other Baskerville heirs.

Who does Mr. Stapleton resemble? Once he's done this, the resemblance becomes much clearer: Jack Stapleton is the spitting image of Hugo Baskerville. From this, Holmes realizes that Stapleton is a Baskerville and is clearly trying to become the next in line for the Baskerville inheritance.

Who is the hero in The Hound of the Baskervilles? The novel's protagonist. Holmes is the famed 221b Baker Street detective with a keen eye, hawked nose, and the trademark hat and pipe. Holmes is observation and intuition personified, and though he takes a bit of a back seat to Watson in this story, we always feel his presence.

What is the moral of the story of Sherlock Holmes? It is essential to have a logical and scientific mindset, just like Sherlock Holmes. Never take anything at face value, for that will only cause us to live in delusion and face unwelcoming repercussions. Only believe it if it is supported by data and facts, and move forward accordingly.

What is the point of view in The Hounds of the Baskervilles? Answer and Explanation: The Hound of the Baskervilles is told from the first person perspective of John Watson.

What is a good thesis statement for The Hound of the Baskervilles? Answer and Explanation: A possible thesis statement for The Hound of the Baskervilles by Arthur Conan Doyle is that the novel illustrates the power of reason in conquering supernatural fear.

What is the theme of the poem the hound? Purpose: The poet wants to express his mixed feelings about life. One optimism when he feels life will be nice and friendly to him. The other is pessimism when he thinks life will destroy and turn him. Theme: Life is uncertain.

What does Sherlock Holmes symbolize? Sherlock Holmes Symbol Analysis Throughout the book, Sherlock Holmes stands for Christopher's personal values of logic and mental detachment. Christopher admires Holmes because he uses logic to solve mysteries and never gives in to the temptation of supernatural explanations for odd happenings.

How did Sherlock Holmes story end? If you've read Sherlock Holmes (and if not spoilers for a 125 year old story), Sherlock Holmes "dies" in the Final Problem by falling off the Reichenbach Falls with Professor Moriarty, but it is revealed that he faked his death and reappears two years later.

Why was Sherlock so good? Holmes is amazingly intelligent and strong, but he's also relatable. Sherlock Holmes remains the most popular out of all of the fictional detectives for these reasons. To this day, his stories are still inspiring retellings of all kinds, from new detective novels to television shows, to movies, and much more.

What is the climax in Hound of the Baskervilles? The climax of The Hound of the Baskervilles occurs when Sir Henry is walking back home from Mr. Stapleton's house as Holmes, Dr. Watson, and Lestrade lie in wait. The three are worried about the encroaching fog and visibility problems when the hound appears chasing after Sir Henry.

What is the main mystery in The Hound of Baskervilles? As the reader followed the plot of the novel, the main conflict is person vs. person, or Dr. Holmes tries to solve who the killer's dog owner is. The Baskervilles (a rich family who owns the Baskerville mansion) are dying off by a killer dog.

Why is The Hound of the Baskervilles so famous? In The Hound of the Baskervilles Conan Doyle uncharacteristically emphasized the eerie setting and mysterious atmosphere rather than the hero's deductive ingenuity. One of the all-time classic mysteries, the novel was hugely popular as readers rejoiced at the return of Sherlock Holmes.

What is the central idea of The Hound of the Baskervilles? The main message of The Hound of the Baskervilles is not to be overly superstitious. Upon Charles Baskerville's death, Dr. Mortimer believes the hound of the Baskervilles killed him. Sherlock and Watson know they should investigate the situation instead of accepting a legend as the cause of death.

What was the author's purpose for writing The Hound of the Baskervilles? One of the author's messages in The Hound of Baskervilles is that an individual's own vices and fears may be sowing the seeds for his own demise. For example, Mr. Frankland's love of litigating for absolutely no reason is draining his resources so that he will no longer be able to instigate legal havoc in the future.

What is the significance of the title The Hound of the Baskervilles? The title of the novel The Hound of the Baskervilles directly relates to the plot of the story. Sherlock Holmes is called to Baskerville Hall to investigate strange events. Whenever the townspeople and residents of Baskerville Hall hear the howl of a hound, they believe it to be an omen that someone will die.

What does the Hound symbolize? The Hound represents government control and manipulation of technology.

What is the metaphor of the Hound? The writer states, "Life the hound/Equivocal/ Comes at a bound/Either to rend me/Or to befriend me." The speaker compares the habits of a hound to life to show that they are similar in a way of not knowing what will happen next. There is a possibility that life can break you or make you.

Is the Hound a good or bad guy? While initially appearing brutal and fatalistic, he later proves to be far more honorable, sympathetic, and compassionate, particularly through his relationships with Sansa and Arya Stark.
